Meaning & Mystery in European Painting

UNH Course Number: ARH371
Subject Areas: Art History
Level: 300
Prerequisites: None
Language of Instruction: English
Contact Hours: 45
Recommended Credits: 3

Description
Using the great art galleries of Europe as your personal visual library and viewing many masterpieces in the original, you will analyze and learn to appreciate the master works of both Spanish and non-Spanish artists across the canvas of European painting such as El Greco, Velázquez, Goya, Sorolla, Picasso, Miró, and Dalí but also Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, Botticelli, Rembrandt, Manet, Van Gogh, Gauguin, Munch, Matisse and others. Seeking both meaning and mystery in great works of art, this course deepens your understanding of expression in European painting.

Surveying both European and Spanish original masterpieces, this course therefore provides a theoretical and practical foundation for developing the heightened visual literacy required of meaningful appreciation of great painting. It provides a framework for understanding the principles of scholarly analysis and interpretation of painting within their many layers of meaning. The course presents established methodologies and approaches necessary to analyze, interpret and evaluate paintings. You will learn how visual elements of design (color, space, perspective, tone) and principles of composition are articulated, how they relate to each other, and how the artist manipulates them in order to alter the effect on the viewer. The different methodologies of cultural history and art history will be addressed as well, along with the various types of conceptual frameworks for interpretation, including formal-stylistic, aesthetic, technological, historical, ideological, political, sociological and gender-based.

Visual lectures use illustrated art works and integrate readings relevant to the various paintings under discussion. In addition, there are visits to the National Museum of Catalan Art which illustrates stylistic developments in painting in Western Europe. The course concludes with student-designed and student-led presentations of selected masterpieces in the art museums and galleries of Barcelona.

Learning Objectives

Knowledge & Cognitive Skills

- Identify the component formal parts of painting, visual elements of design and principles of composition, and recognize how they are arranged to work together
- Acquire the critical vocabulary and the oral and written skills for describing, analyzing, and interpreting the formal aspects of paintings
- Distinguish stylistic differences among individual works of art through the formal analysis of the artistic compositions
- Recognize the relevance of the socio-historical and cultural context in the production of the work of art
- Describe and use the fundamental concepts and approaches within art criticism and history when analyzing paintings
- Use both local and international scholarship when analyzing and evaluating paintings

Critical Thinking Skills
- Use standards of critical reasoning in the analysis of European painting
- Interpret works of art in the context of the artists’ lives and careers and also in relation to other works of art
- Evaluate the relation of artistic activity in the most comprehensive sense to the entirety of the cultural environment in which it occurs, its wider historical, political, religious and social context
- Measure the relation of paintings to factors such as artistic theory, patronage, audience and technical limitations, showing understanding of function
- Assess the artistic significance of each painting in relation to the cultural-historical context in which they were produced

Affective & Attitudinal Skills
- Reflect upon the meaning and role of great paintings in the contemporary host culture and society
- Welcome and overcome differences in cultural attitudes related to the role great art plays in home and host settings

Behavioural Skills
- Use knowledge of European and Spanish painting to engage positively with the host population and culture
- Demonstrate a heightened appreciation and curiosity for the interpretation of European artwork

Instructional Format
Class will meet twice a week for 75 minutes. Classes are structured for interactivity and require effective communication between teacher and student so as to develop a constructive dialogue about the works of art studied. Course-work is comprised of in-class lectures and discussions, group activities, student presentations, extensive outside readings, and practical analytical exercises regarding influential works of art. Class begins with 30-40 minute lectures which are followed by small group work in which you analyze a number of images and texts, each accompanied with specific tasks to complete. You must therefore come to class ready to discuss different texts and engage in visual and contextual analysis of different works of art. This instructional process helps you learn how the visual appearance of paintings conveys meaning. Excerpts from artist’s writings, other primary sources, images of European masterpieces and video will be used in class as additional learning supports. You will participate in onsite field research at the MNAC, the National Museum of Catalan Art, where many European masterpieces are on display. When traveling, you will explore the celebrated art museums of Europe and study the originals of masterpieces examined and analyzed in class. Your final project will also integrate the onsite lectures in the art museums and galleries of Barcelona. If you require any special accommodations, please contact the instructor.

Form of Assessment
The instructor will use numerous and differentiated forms of assessment to calculate the final grade you receive for this course. For the record, these are listed and weighted below. The content, criteria and specific requirements for each assessment category will be explained in greater detail in class. Whether you plan to transfer letter grades back to your home institution or not, CEA expects that you will complete all graded assessment categories in each course in which you are enrolled. In addition, your work and behavior in this course must fully conform to the regulations of the CEA Academic Integrity Policy to which you are subject. Finally, all formal written work you carry out in this course (research papers, projects, studies, etc.) must be submitted in electronic format. Your instructor may also require that you hand in a hard copy of such work.

Please be advised: Any grade dispute you encounter in this course must immediately be discussed with the instructor and definitively resolved before the last week of class. Only end-of-term assignments graded after the end of your program are subject to CEA's formal grade appeal procedure. For more information, see CEA Academic Policies.

Class Participation: This grade will be calculated to reflect your participation in class discussions, your capacity to introduce ideas and thoughts dealing with the required texts, your ability to use language effectively, and your analytical skills in intellectual, constructive argumentation. When determining your class participation grade, traditional criteria such as material preparation, completed reading before class, and collaborative group work are all evaluated. But it is the active, meaningful and informed verbal and written contribution that you make that is most important to your overall participation grade. Indeed, willingness to share views in classroom discussions and the insightfulness of your comments and questions about assigned readings will all be taken into account when evaluating your participation. Additionally, it is important to demonstrate a positive and supportive attitude to the instructor and your classmates, and give full attention to class activities (i.e., cell-phones off, laptop for notes only, etc.). Whereas attendance and punctuality are expected and will not count positively towards the grade, laxity in these areas will have a negative effect. The instructor will use the following specific criteria when calculating your class participation grade:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Criteria for Assessing Class Participation</th>
<th>Grade</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>You make major and original contributions that spark discussion, offering both critical and analytical comments clearly based on readings and research and displaying a working knowledge of theoretical issues.</td>
<td>A+ (9.70–10.00)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You make significant contributions that demonstrate insight as well as knowledge of required readings and independent research.</td>
<td>A-/A (9.00–9.69)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You participate voluntarily and make useful contributions that are usually based upon some reflection and familiarity with required readings.</td>
<td>B/B+ (8.40–8.90)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You make voluntary but infrequent comments that generally reiterate the basic points of the required readings.</td>
<td>C+/B- (7.70–8.39)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You make limited comments only when prompted and do not initiate debate or show a clear awareness of the importance of the readings.</td>
<td>C (7.00–7.69)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>You very rarely make comments and resist engagement with the subject, attending class having manifestly done little if any preparation.</td>
<td>D (6.00–6.69)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
You make irrelevant and tangential comments disruptive to class discussion, a result of frequent absence and complete unpreparedness.

Quizzes: There will be periodic quizzes on the main topics studied and discussed in class. The quizzes will consist of twenty multiple choice questions based on slides of images analyzed in class. These quizzes will be visual tests that will serve to reassert the knowledge gained from lectures and individual readings and demonstrate comprehension of art terms.

Art Journal Reflection: You will write five art journals consisting of either a comparative analysis of two paintings or a critical review of a painting and a related text. The instructor will choose the artworks and texts and provide guidelines and target questions. The journals will be type-written (Times New Roman 10, 1.5 line spacing) and will be no longer than two pages. There will be weekly in-class presentations of the art journals as assigned by the instructor.

These periodic assignments enable you to integrate your art appreciation and experiential learning into the knowledge you acquire through theoretical readings and class discussions. These reflective exercises should contribute to your appreciation and respect for artists with differing cultural values and add to your general adaptive skills necessary for living in a cultural milieu different from your own.

Gallery Presentation: Working in groups, you will choose an art exhibit of your choice held in Barcelona during the semester and then design and execute a guided tour of selected paintings on display. Your onsite group presentation should last around thirty minutes during which you must convey a critical understanding of the main concepts studied throughout the course. You will write a gallery “program guide” of your exhibit and tour, which will include the name of the art museum or gallery, the works you have chosen to present, an outline of the main ideas you present for each artwork, and a bibliographical list of six scholarly sources used to support your presentation. You must submit the program guide to the instructor before the formal tour and it will count towards the overall assessment of your work. Class members attending your gallery presentation will submit a short reflection paper that will count towards their class participation. Some of the art museums in Barcelona are: MACBA, CCCB, CaixaForum, Fundació Miró, Fundació Picasso, Fundació Antoni Tàpies, Fundació Francisco Godia, and La Pedrera.

Midterm & Final Exams: The mid-term and final exams are designed to establish and communicate to you the progress you are making towards meeting the course learning objectives listed in the syllabus above. Each exam covers only the segment of the course preceding it: the final exam is not comprehensive. Exam questions will be drawn from course lectures, films, handouts, and reading assignments. Works of art appearing on the exams will be chosen from those discussed in class. The instructor will give you a list of the paintings that may appear on the exam one week before each exam. Each exam has two parts. The first part (60%) will be a set of twenty multiple choice questions based on paintings studied in class and the second part (40%) will be two essays (20% each) that treat more general issues and concepts. The exams will test your abilities in three important areas of competency: the amount of information you master; the accuracy of the information you present; and the significance you ascribe to the facts and ideas you have integrated across your study in this course.

CEA Attendance Policy

Every student is expected to attend all scheduled class sessions on time and be thoroughly prepared for the day’s class activities. In compliance with NEASC and UNH accreditation requirements, CEA instructors compile regular attendance records for every course and take these records into account when evaluating student participation and performance.

- In each three-credit 15-week course, a maximum of the equivalent of two weeks (4 class sessions) of accumulated absences due to sickness, personal emergency, inevitable transport delay and other related impediments will be tolerated.
- Your final course grade will drop one full letter grade (e.g. A- to B-) for each additional class missed beyond this two week period, regardless of the reason for your absence.
- You will automatically fail a course if your absences exceed the equivalent of three weeks of class.

Furthermore, to comply with immigration and financial regulations, you must maintain full-time student status and attend at least 12 hours of class every week. Consequently, the Dean and Campus Director will dismiss from all CEA courses, programs, activities and housing any student who fails to maintain full-time status.

ceaClassroom: CEA's Moodle CMS

CEA instructors use the open source course management system (CMS) called Moodle that creates an interactive virtual learning environment for students and educators alike. This web-based platform provides you with 24/7 access to the course syllabus, daily schedule of class lectures and assignments, non-textbook required readings, and additional resources directly related to your studies. Moodle includes the normal array of forums, up-loadable and downloadable databases, wikis, and related academic support designed for helping you achieve the many course learning objectives.

The ceaClassroom website is located here: https://www.ceaClassroom.com/
During the first week of class, the CEA academic staff and instructors will provide you with log-in information and corresponding passwords to access this site. They will also help you navigate through the many functions and resources Moodle provides. While you may print a hard copy version of the syllabus that is projected on the first day of class, it is the class schedule on Moodle that is the definitive and official one, given that the instructor will be announcing updates and additions there and nowhere else. It is your responsibility to ensure that you have access to all Moodle materials related to your course and that you monitor Moodle on a daily basis so as to be fully informed of required course assignments and any scheduling changes that might occur.

Required Readings

Listed below are the required course textbooks and additional readings. Whether you buy your books from our locally affiliated merchants or whether you acquire these before arrival, you must have constant access to these resources for reading, highlighting and marginal note-taking. It is required that you have unrestricted access to each. Additional copies will be placed on reserve in the Academic Affairs office for short-term loans. Access to additional sources required for certain class sessions will be provided in paper or electronic format consistent with applicable copyright legislation. In addition, the Academic Affairs Office compiles a bank of detailed information about the many libraries, documentation centers, research institutes and archival materials located in the host city and accessible to CEA students. You will be required to use these resources throughout your studies. Direct access to additional resources and databanks are available to you through the online library of the University of New Haven.

Recommended Readings

Many of the following primary and secondary materials, articles and readings have been placed on reserve and are located in the CEA office resource center. You can also find them in the libraries listed below. The instructor will guide you on these readings.
